

Humboldt Supervisor Leads Rural Counties Group

Jefferson Public Radio

Geoffrey Riley, April Ehrlich & John Baxter

February 26, 2018

Ten million people live in Los Angeles County, the biggest in California. Humboldt County has somewhat fewer, at a bit more than 134,000.

So Humboldt and 34 other counties band together to bring their concerns to the attention of state legislators, as the Rural County Representatives of California, RCRC.

And Humboldt County has the potential for a bit more attention, now that County Supervisor Rex Bohn chairs RCRC.

The chair joins us to lay out legislative priorities for the rural counties.

<http://ijpr.org/post/humboldt-supervisor-leads-rural-counties-group#stream/0>