RCRC Installs 2018 Officers and Presents Rural Leadership Awards

SACRAMENTO, CA – January 18, 2018 – The Rural County Representatives of California (RCRC) installed its 2018 Officers and presented its Rural Leadership Awards at their annual reception in Sacramento yesterday. Humboldt County Supervisor Rex Bohn was installed as Chair, Tuolumne County Supervisor Randy Hanvelt was installed as First Vice Chair, and Inyo County Supervisor Matt Kingsley was installed as Second Vice Chair. Tehama County Supervisor Bob Williams remains an Officer as Immediate Past Chair. The newly installed 2018 Officers will lead the organization in championing policies on behalf of California's rural counties.

“There are a lot of challenges facing California's rural counties this year, and I am honored that my fellow rural county leaders have entrusted me to navigate RCRC's efforts as Chair,” said Supervisor Bohn. “I look forward to the opportunity to work with RCRC Board Members and staff on strategies and opportunities that raise the level of awareness of rural communities in Sacramento and Washington, D.C., and advance the policies set forth by the organization.”

In addition to the Installation of Officers, Rural Leadership Awards were presented to two officials who have demonstrated an understanding of, and leadership in, rural issues and the unique challenges that rural communities face.

Assembly Member Anna Caballero (D-Monterey) was the first recipient of the 2017 Rural Leadership Award.

“We are honored to present Assembly Member Caballero with the 2017 Rural Leadership Award as her actions continue to reflect her passion for ensuring California's rural counties have a voice,” said Anthony Botelho, San Benito County Supervisor. “From opposing AB 1250 and SB 649, to authoring AB 577, which would have secured a more equitable definition of disadvantaged communities, we thank Assembly Member Caballero for her leadership, and look forward to working together this year to continue fighting for California's rural counties.”

"I am thankful for the opportunity to represent rural California, and honored to receive the RCRC Rural Leadership Award," said Assembly Member Caballero. "Rural California plays an important role in our state, and those of us who live and work there contribute to the prosperity of California. Agriculture feeds the country, and the forests and rangeland provide important recreational opportunities and habitat. It takes advocates who appreciate and will defend rural communities. Thank you RCRC for giving rural communities a voice."

Senator John Moorlach (R-Orange) was the second recipient of the 2017 Rural Leadership Award.

"It is my privilege to present Senator John Moorlach with the 2017 Rural Leadership Award," said Bob Williams, RCRC Immediate Past Chair and Tehama County Supervisor. "In addition to his advocacy on several legislative proposals of importance to rural California, Senator Moorlach authored SB 1463, which would have required the California Public Utilities Commission to prioritize areas that have increased wildfire hazards posed by overhead electrical lines and equipment. The Senator has also shown that he understands the importance of local-control regarding cannabis issues – a priority for RCRC. Rural advocacy from legislators representing more urbanized districts showcases true leadership, and we thank Senator Moorlach for his support."

"With more than 20 years of experience at the county-level, I know firsthand the challenges faced by local government leaders," said Senator Moorlach. "These challenges are only multiplied in our rural communities. In my current role, I rely heavily on my county relationships to inform my legislative priorities."

In addition to the 2018 Officers, five regional representatives were appointed at the RCRC Board of Directors meeting in December 2017. These representatives join the RCRC Officers to make up the full 2018 RCRC Executive Committee. The regional representatives were appointed as follows:

- Region 1: Supervisor Michael Kobseff (Siskiyou)
- Region 2: Supervisor Aaron Albaugh (Lassen)
- Region 3: Supervisor Diane Dillon (Napa)
- Region 4: Supervisor Stacy Corless (Mono)
- Region 5: Supervisor Daron McDaniel (Merced)
